T27. PUBLIC HEALTH AND MARINE-HOSPITAL SERVICE

[The Marine-Hospital Service grew out of the act of July 16, 1798 (Stat. L. v. 1, p. 605) and subsequent acts for the relief of sick and disabled seamen. Reorganized by act of June 29, 1870 (Stat. L. v. 16, p. 169). Name changed by act of July 1, 1902 (Stat. L. v. 32, pt. 1, p. 712) to Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service.

From 1879 to 1885 certain duties relating to the public health were transferred by act of June 2, 1879 (Stat. L. v. 21, p. 5-7) to the National Board of Health (T29.).

See, for historical sketches of Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service, T27.1:872, p. 7-27, T27.2:M33, and T27.12:13, 20.]

T27.1: Annual reports of surgeon-general

[1853-61, certain statistics concerning marine hospitals are included in annual reports of Treasury Department (Finance reports, T1.1:). A special report containing statistics for 6 months ending Dec. 31, 1871, was issued as a Congressional document; see [1479-36].

The first of the present series of reports is that for fiscal year 1872. The number of the report does not appear on the title-page, but it is frequently mentioned in the letter of transmittal. This numbering exhibited various inconsistencies prior to 1893. Beginning with report for 1893, the numbering has been on the basis of an individual report for each year beginning with that for 1872, notwithstanding the fact that the report for 1876 was included with that for 1877, and the report for 1878 with that for 1879.

Only a very brief unsigned summary is included in annual reports of Treasury Department (Finance reports, T1.1:).]

[The laboratory of the Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service is known as the Hygienic Laboratory. It was established at the marine hospital on Staten Island, N. Y., Aug. 1887. Transferred to Washington, D. C., June 11, 1891.

The series of bulletins listed below includes the most important printed records of the work of the laboratory.

Annual reports are also made each year to the surgeon-general of the Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service; those for 1891, 1894-1905 are printed in full over the signature of the director of the Hygienic Laboratory in the annual reports of the Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service (T27.1:); for 1888-90, 1906-09, the work of the laboratory is merely summarized by the surgeon-general of the Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service in his report; reports for 1892, 1893, if made, were not printed. The only annual report of the Hygienic Laboratory issued separately is that for 1896 which is classed under T27.1a:H99.]

T27.6: Public health reports (weekly)

(v. nos.)

[The "Bulletins of the public health," nos. 1-46, published in accordance with the national quarantine act of Apr. 29, 1878, were issued weekly from July 13, 1878, to May 24, 1879. They were originally published on separate sheets by manifold process. In order to preserve them in permanent form, they were reprinted in one volume by the Marine-Hospital Service in 1881, and were later designated as v. 1 of this series. The Public Documents Library has them only in the reprint of 1881.

From July 5, 1879, to July 1, 1882, the series of "Bulletins of the public health" issued by the Marine-Hospital Service was superseded by the series of weekly bulletins issued by the National Board of Health; see T29.3¹:

In 1887, the publication was resumed by the Marine-Hospital Service under the title Weekly abstract of sanitary reports, and the issues for that year, numbered from 47 to 96, Jan. 20-Dec. 30, constitute v. 2. With v. 3, 1888, the plan of beginning a new series of numbers for each annual volume was adopted. The word "weekly" disappeared from the individual issues with v. 5, no. 3, but was retained on the volume title-pages through v. 10.

With v. 11, 1896, the title was changed to Public health reports, the back title of the bound volumes reading, Weekly public health reports.]

(date) [Weekly.]

[The wording of the title of this series has varied from time to time. Only the radical changes are shown in the list below. There have also been minor changes. On issues of Mar. 11, 18, Apr. 1, 15, 1908, the words "and noncommissioned" are omitted, though the publication contains the usual information. After the change of title, July 8, 1908, one issue, that for July 22, 1908, reverts to the old form of title, and on issues for July 8, 15, 29, Aug. 5, 12, 1908, the form "station" instead of "stations" is used. Beginning Aug. 19, 1908, the title has uniformly appeared as given in the heading above. In cases where publication on one of the regular dates is omitted, the next issue reads "for 14 days ended —."]
