DC. DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

[1802-71, corporation of City of Washington, established by act of May 3, 1802.
1871-74, 1st municipal government of District of Columbia, established by act of Feb. 21, 1871.
1874-78, 2d municipal government of District of Columbia (temporary commission), established by act of June 20, 1874.
1878-date, permanent commission, established by act of June 11, 1878.
The relations between the United States Government and the District of Columbia are of such a unique nature that in considering the publications of the District of Columbia government and its various branches it is difficult to decide which are and which are not United States Government publications. In compiling the following list, publications of the corporation of the City of Washington during the period 1802-71 have been omitted. Publications issued by bodies which existed as a part of the Territorial form of government, Feb. 21, 1871–June 20, 1874, are classed under DC1.2: The files of District of Columbia publications in the Public Documents Library are in many cases very incomplete.]†

[The publications of the former circuit and district courts of the District of Columbia are classed here, as under act approved Mar. 3, 1901 (Stat. L. v. 31, sec. 62, p. 1199) the justices of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia are to possess the same powers and exercise the jurisdiction possessed and exercised by the judges of the circuit and district courts of the United States. The Supreme Court of the District of Columbia is divided into a circuit court, an equity court, a district court, a criminal court, and a probate court (Tindall's Origin and government of District of Columbia, DC1.2:D63¹, p. 206). Section 64 of act approved Mar. 3, 1901 (Stat. L. v. 31, p. 1200) reads as follows: "The special terms of said court [Supreme Court of the District of Columbia] shall be known, respectively, as the circuit court, the equity court, the criminal court, the probate court, and the district court of the United States."]

† The act making appropriations for the District of Columbia for fiscal year 1912, approved Mar. 2, 1911 (61st Congress, 3d session, Public 441, p. 42, 43), provides "That the jail of the District of Columbia and the Washington Asylum of said District, on and after July 1, 1911, shall be combined as one institution known as the Washington Asylum and Jail." This act also provides that certain authority, duties, etc., relating to the jail and the Washington Asylum which were formerly vested in the Attorney-General of the United States and in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia shall be transferred to the Commissioners of the District of Columbia.

Prior to the passage of this act, the annual reports of the warden of the jail were made to the Attorney-General, but as the Public Documents Library has no separate issues of such reports, nor of other publications of the jail, that institution has hitherto had no classification in this Checklist.
