

J13. PENITENTIARY, McNEIL ISLAND

[Under act approved Jan. 22, 1867 (Stat. L. v. 14, p. 377), provision was made for erection of a United States penitentiary in Washington Territory, the amount to be expended for this purpose being limited to $20,000. It was located on McNeil Island, Wash. The act approved Feb. 22, 1873 (Stat. L. v. 17, p. 475) authorized an increased sum of $20,000, and in 1874 an additional appropriation of about $7,000 was made. No further appropriations were specifically made for this penitentiary up to 1897, its expenses being defrayed from the general appropriations for support of United States prisoners. There have since been several specific appropriations, the most notable of which is the sundry civil act approved Mar. 3, 1903 (Stat. L. v. 32, pt. 1, p. 1144), which appropriated $30,000 for construction of additional buildings, prison wall, and wharf.]

The organic act provided that the erection of the building should be under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior. The Penitentiary has been from the first a Federal institution, under the management and control of the Attorney-General.]

Ju3. COURT OF CLAIMS

[Prior to 1855, all claims of citizens against the Government were laid before Congress and referred to a Committee on Claims in the Senate or House. The inability of these committees to examine fully all the claims submitted, and the difficulty of getting Congress to appropriate money for the payment of such claims as were favorably reported, amounted often to a denial of justice. By an act approved Feb. 25, 1855, a court for the hearing of private claims was established. It was, however, required to submit its findings, with briefs and testimony, to Congress, where they were referred to committees as before, and the resulting delay and injustice were but little mitigated. On Mar. 3, 1863, an amendatory act was passed making the Court of Claims really a court, its findings no longer subject to review by Congress, but providing for an appeal to the Supreme Court.]

Ju6. SUPREME COURT—Continued

Ju6.8¹: United States reports (official set)

(v.nos.)

[The reports of cases adjudged in the United States Supreme Court are not published by the Government as public documents, but are a perquisite of the reporter of the court, who issues them through a private publishing house. He is required by law to supply the Government with 300 copies without charge, and copies above 300 in number he is required to sell to the Government at $2 a volume and to the public for a price not exceeding $5 a volume.]

The Supreme Court reports which are procured for the Government are distributed by the Interior Department to certain officials specified by law. Sec. 683, Revised statutes, provides for the distribution of the 300 copies. This section was amended by act of Feb. 12, 1889 (Stat. L. v. 25, p. 661), which provided for the purchase of 76 additional sets for distribution to circuit and district courts. This act also repealed so much of sec. 386, Revised statutes, as charged the Department of Justice with distribution of Supreme Court reports.

Sec. 683, Revised statutes, was further amended by act of July 1, 1902 (Stat. L. v. 32, pt. 1, p. 630), for further distribution of reports of Supreme Court. By this act provision was made for the purchase of 104 more sets of the reports proper and also for the purchase of certain digests to v. 1-186 of the official set; see, for further information as to digests, note under Ju6.8²:

The Interior Department distributes more than the 480 sets provided for by the acts above referred to. The mailing list is constantly changing, owing to the fact that by law the Department is required to distribute them to all places in the United States where courts are held. An act of Mar. 4, 1907 (Stat. L. v. 34, pt. 1, p. 1387), mentions 576 copies, a number which presumably is sufficient to meet the requirements of law. If more copies are required they may be secured by the Department through the contingent fund.

An official set of these reports from the beginning is made up as follows:

Reporter	Vols.	How cited	U. S. v. no.	Period covered
Dallas.....	4	Dal.	1- 4 U. S.	1790-1800
Cranch.....	9	Cr.	5- 13 U. S.	1801-1815
Wheaton.....	12	Wh.	14- 25 U. S.	1816-1827
Peters.....	16	Pet.	26- 41 U. S.	1828-1842
Howard.....	24	How.	42- 65 U. S.	1843-1860
Black.....	2	Black.	66- 67 U. S.	1861-1862
Wallace.....	23	Wal.	68- 90 U. S.	1863-1874
U. S. reports....	91-218	U. S.	91-218 U. S.	1875-1909

In addition to the list as given above, a 17th volume of Peters was issued, but as it duplicates Howard's 1st volume, it is not counted in the total number of volumes preceding the series entitled United States reports, which began in 1875 with v. 91, the latest volume included in this Checklist being v. 218, for the Oct. 1909 term. The first 206 volumes of the official set are conveniently listed on p. 371-380 of Catalogue of library of Senate, 1908 (Y1.3:C28³).

It is impracticable, well-nigh impossible, to attempt to give complete bibliographical information concerning every edition of each volume, as it is not likely that any set comprising a uniform edition could be consulted, much less full sets of each distinct edition. These conditions are the result of the laws governing the printing and distribution of Supreme Court reports, among which is a law which provides that incomplete sets shall be filled by any reprints of the missing volumes (Stat. L. v. 32, pt. 1, p. 630). Under existing circumstances, the entries in this Checklist are confined to the copies in the Public Documents Library, some of which are original editions and others later editions or reprints thereof.

Whereas there is only this one official set of these reports, there are many unofficial sets, which are not listed in this Checklist, because they can not be considered United States public documents in the broadest acceptation of that term, since the United States Government is not authorized to provide copies for all of the courts of the United States. See, for information as to unofficial reports, Catalogue of library of Department of Justice, to Sept. 1, 1904, p. 641 (J4.5:904.)

Ju6.8²: Digests of United States reports (official sets)

[Many digests of United States reports have been printed, but only the 4 v. Lawyers' Co-operative Publishing Company digest covering v. 1-206, the Russell and Winslow digest in 4 v. covering v. 1-186, and the Butler digest in 1 v. covering v. 187-202, can be considered official sets. The distribution of these two sets of digests covering v. 1-186 was authorized by sec. 4 of act of July 1, 1902 (Stat. L. v. 32, pt. 1, p. 631). Whereas both sets are therefore official, each judge or other officer to whom distribution is made is required to choose one of the 2 sets.

The Butler digest for v. 187-202 was authorized by deficiency appropriation act of Mar. 4, 1907 (Stat. L. v. 34, pt. 1, p. 1387), which provided for its purchase from the reporter of the Supreme Court at $3 a copy.

The digests are distributed by law in the same manner and to the same persons as the reports are distributed.

The Lawyers' Co-operative Publishing Company also published in 1908 a new 6 v. set, covering v. 1-206, but as there is no authority of law for purchase of copies by the Government, it is not included here. See, for information as to other unofficial digests, Catalogue of library of Department of Justice, to Sept. 1, 1904, p. 641 (J4.5:904); Catalogue of library of Senate, 1908, p. 147 (Y1.3:C28²); Catalogue of law books in Library of Congress, 1869, p. 271 (LC1.5:869²), etc.

Arbitrary numbers are assigned for official compilers or reporters, those numbers being separated by a period from the volume numbers of the United States reports digested, e. g.:

1.1-175¹ = v. 1 of Russell & Winslow's syllabus-digest of 1-175 U. S.

1.1-175² = v. 2 of Russell & Winslow's syllabus-digest of 1-175 U. S.

2.155-186 = Lawyers' Co-operative Publishing Company's digest of 155-186 U. S.

3.187-202 = Butler's digest of 187-202 U. S.]

1.1-175¹ Russell & Winslow's syllabus-digest of all decisions of Supreme Court of United States from 1 Dallas to 175 United States, with alphabetical table of cases reported, chronological table of cases cited to each syllabus point, and index-digest by subjects, covering all decisions officially reported, and embracing official syllabus of every case, with catch words added; by William Hepburn Russell and William Beverly Winslow. Banks Law Publishing Co., New York, 1900. v. 1, large 8° *

1.1-175² Same. Banks Law Publishing Co., New York, 1901. v. 2, large 8° *

1.1-175³ Same. Banks Law Publishing Co., New York, 1902. v. 3, large 8° * [v. 3 includes also Alphabetical table of cases in which no opinions were rendered.]

1.176-202 Same [supplement covering 176-202 U. S., with index-digest, etc.]. [2d edition.] Banks Law Publishing Co., New York, 1907. v. 4, large 8° * [1st edition of v. 4 not in Public Documents Library and no copy of it has been examined; presumably the 1st edition is not a Government publication.]

Contents:

LA. LABOR DEPARTMENT

[A Bureau of Labor was organized in Jan. 1885, under act approved June 27, 1884, as a part of the Interior Department. By act of June 13, 1888, taking effect June 30, 1888, its status was changed to that of an independent bureau, under the title Department of Labor. The publications of both Bureau and Department of Labor are classed here for sake of convenience.

Under act approved Feb. 14, 1903, the Department of Labor was transferred to the Commerce and Labor Department July 1, 1903. See, for later publications, C8.]

La1.1: Annual reports

(date)	[1885-88 (including 1 unnumbered and 4 numbered), the annual reports were made by the Labor Bureau and submitted to the Interior Department. The 1888 (4th) report was made by the Labor Department but as the period covered the work of the Labor Bureau, it was submitted to the Interior Department. 1889-1902, the reports were made by the Labor Department and submitted to Congress.]
