PS. POSTAL SAVINGS SYSTEM †*S. STATE DEPARTMENT

[This is the oldest of the Executive Departments. The act of Congress approved July 27, 1789, established a Department of Foreign Affairs and this act was followed by another, approved Sept. 15, 1789, which enlarged the duties of the Department and directed that it be called the Department of State. This law required the Secretary to receive and publish the laws of the United States; to be custodian of the seal of the United States; to authenticate copies of records and papers properly coming before him, and to receive all records and papers in the office of the late Secretary of Congress, except such as related to the Treasury and War Departments.]

† This Checklist ends with the publications of the calendar year 1909. Since that time the Postal Savings System has been organized, necessitating additional classes, the heading and series titles of which are as follows:
