S7.13: Session laws or Pamphlet laws (Little, Brown and Company edition)—Continued

(Cong. sess.)

Little, Brown and Company published the session or pamphlet laws for each session of Congress from the 29th to the 42d, inclusive. From the 29th to the 34th Congresses they were edited by George Minot, and from the 35th to the 42d, by George P. Sanger. The "Public" and "Private" laws, and the "Treaties" were grouped under separate title-pages with continuous paging for each of the 3 classes, and were subsequently (and practically without change in form, though with rearranged pagination) incorporated in the Little, Brown and Company edition of the Statutes at large for the corresponding period (S7.9:9-17).

In the Little, Brown and Company edition of the session laws the cover-title read: Statutes at large and treaties of United States, which differed radically from the title given on the title-page. In the Government series which superseded it (S7.6:43¹⁻², et seq.) the cover-title and the title-page are the same, namely, Statutes of United States.]

S8. ROLLS AND LIBRARY BUREAU

[The library of the State Department has been in existence since 1789, being in charge of a clerk acting as librarian, up to the act of June 20, 1874 (Stat. L. v. 18, pt. 3, p. 90), which provided for the Bureau of Rolls and Library. This bureau is charged with the custody of the rolls, treaties, papers relating to international commissions, etc.; also the promulgation of the laws, treaties, Executive orders and proclamations.]

S8.1: Annual reports

(date) [None issued.]

S8.2: General publications

Documentary history of Constitution (note).

[The successive portions for v. 1-3 appeared originally as appendixes to Bulletins 1, 3, 5, 7, and 9, the dates on the title-pages furnished therewith reading 1787-1870; see S8.3: The State Department also issued the completed volumes with same title-page in bound form, v. 1 and v. 2 bearing date 1894, and v. 3 bearing date 1900; see below S8.2:D65¹⁻³.

In 1902, these 3 v. were reprinted by order of Congress. The original imprint dates were retained, but the dates in the title were changed to read 1786-1870. These appeared in the sheep-bound Congressional set, also in half leather with the seal of the Department of State on the cover, and also in plain blue cloth; see below S8.2:D65⁴⁻⁶. These reprints are almost identical with the originals except for the difference in binding, wider margins, and the dates 1786-1870 on title-pages and on back. There is also one difference in the text, namely, a change in v. 1 as noted below under S8.2:D65⁴.

v. 4 and v. 5, containing additional documents, appeared in 1905 as Bulletin 11, pt. 1 and pt. 2. They were also issued by the State Department bound in half leather with the seal of the Department, in style uniform with its 1902 prints of v. 1-3; see below S8.2:D65⁷⁻⁸.]
